Hi Dad, it's been over 2 months since you left us. I thought I wrote something prior to this but any how I just wanted to say thank you so much for ALL that you have done for the family. Your hard work and many sacrifices you have accomplished many things for your family. We are so ever grateful. So sorry Dad for what you have gone through the last two weeks that you were with us. There was a Blessings though; them taking their trip/cruise was the best thing because it gave the rest of us to spend the 2 weeks with you. Visiting you every day/evening to spend time with you was priceless. Chad/manang Eny sneaking in food for you was worth the risk just to see you smile. Although your body was deteriorating your mind was still top shape. Asking Jukie to shave you and scolding him when he didn't come with the shaver. Your jokes and your smiles were definitely priceless; how it made us happy when you were happy. Your top shape mind you had requested so many things but unfortunately your wishes were not honored; I don't need to say why because you knew what was going on. Other issues that we were faced with was your last project (shed) that you was really proud off had to be demolished wished, which Mommy was as so hurt. I wished we could have honored all your wishes unfortunately we couldn't. Like I said it's been over 2 months and we continue to miss you. I think of you every single day and how much I love you. Like people would say you should have said it while your Dad was here & I wished I did. LOVE YOU SO MUCH & I MISS YOU; your Anak; Cris aka YOUR FAVORITE!

Thank You, Dad! Your love and strict guidance growing up made me the person I am today. I will miss your calls while waiting for mom shopping. I will miss your visits to have me complete your check to pay your bills, dropping off mangoes, sarguelas, ripe chico, sour saps and vegetables from your garden. I am glad that I spent the last two months of your life with you and shared your inner thoughts and feelings. When I returned that Monday night and let you know that I'm back, you opened your eyes and looked at me briefly, closed your eyes and tears rolled down. I don't know if those were happy tears to see me or sad tears knowing that it's time for you to go. Those tears will forever etched on my mind and heart. Thank you for keeping your promise. I'm glad that I spent that night at your bedside holding your hand, praying the rosary and chaplet of divine mercy with you. I know that you will greet me with open arms when GOD calls me home. Until then; RIP. I love you Dad! Forever in my heart. Lisa
