She was hanai'd to and eventually formally adopted by her aunt on her mother's side, Harriet, and her uncle, Manuel Ernest. She grew up on Oahu and lived most of her life in Aiea. She also went on to attend and get her certificate in Cosmetology from the College of San Mateo in 1975, also becoming a licensed massage therapist later in life. Besides being a wonderful wife and mother, she was a model, performed the hula in Waikiki for Halau Hula o Maiki and the Kahauanu Lake Trio, was a hairdresser at JCPenney's salon, a massage therapist, a volunteer wig and make-up artist with the Hawaii Opera Theater, a super chaperone and supporter of the Hawaii Youth Opera Chorus, and retired as the office manager for Bete Mu'u Inc.

Terry had many talents and she loved using them to help others, instilling in those around her the value of hard work, kindness, generosity, humility, courage, laughing often, eating dessert first, and being a loving and caring person.
