The Creek Boys were a small tight knit group of young boys friends and family members in the Smithfield community that looked out for each other. A few of the members were James Miller, Billy Fagnes, Darron Burpo, Leon Carter, Michael Crayton, and a few others.

Poem of Brotherhood

to James Edward Miller Jr., alias "Poochie," alias "Lord Psycho"

In the very beginning when you were just a baby boy.

You always seemed to bring smiles, happiness, and joy.

With all your love and kindness, you set yourself apart.

We knew that you would be special, right from the very start.

You always had that caring heart, no matter what the weather.

And if by chance we fell apart, you brought us back together.

On your journey through life, you helped others along the way.

Making sure everyone was good or just okay.

You will always have a place in our hearts, and that I know is true.

For we wouldn't be who we are, if it wasn't for people like you.

You will always be remembered, and we will always be your biggest fans.

We will always remember James "Poochie" Miller.

But we will always remember "The Great Man."
